Hi Londell,

We believe it makes sense for the parties to utilize Justice Gilbert to assist us to work through these issues in Heirs Meetings/Communications process going forward. We will communicate with Justice Gilbert regarding our position, with the goal of setting-up a mediation to discuss in the near future.

Thank you,

Hi Andrea, thank you for your reply. It was my understanding that this meeting covered a range of topics Comerica wanted to discuss and the heirs wished to discuss. Am I incorrect here? Indeed, the prior email was not clear on what was going to be the topic of the meetings you wish to now make every other month. Can you explain?

Would you also be open, as a result of changing the current heirs and interested parties meetings, to having brief weekly transition planning meetings, starting this month? Presumably, there is a lot to cover. Do you agree?

Subject: Re: Heirs Meetings- Go Forward

Good Morning Andrea:

Please be advised that SNJ, Charles and I are concerned with this approach and we would like to discuss it in detail or have you summarize your rationale and insights here. As Comerica's administration of the Prince Estate should be winding down and transition preparation should be happening to prepare the remaining heirs and interested parties, we need even more transition planning meetings with Comerica not less. There are numerous matters that require explanation and simply communicating by email is not the best practice, as emails alone can often be misunderstood -- we do need both. Accordingly, we wish to discuss this matter in a manner directed by the Court rather than Comerica, and F&B, unilaterally changing the communication protocols.

FYI, I have no particular objection to having F&B join the calls either, as that may be helpful to expedite some matters. We will see, however, there is much to discuss and do. Please let us know if you are available to discuss this matter today or tomorrow. We will make ourselves available at your convenience to mutually resolve this matter.

Thank you,

Londell

Dear Heirs and Interested Parties,

Given the current composition of the beneficial interest holders in the Estate, Comerica believes it is appropriate to institute a change in the heirs meetings structure. Specifically, we think it would be beneficial to pivot from one monthly meeting with the natural heirs and a separate monthly meeting with the interested parties, to “all-hands” meetings every other month. The “all-hands” meetings would include Comerica, Primary Wave, Londell, Charles, the natural heirs who still hold expectancy interests, heirs advisors / representatives, a representative of Fredrikson & Byron, and counsel to the heirs and interested parties if they desire to include legal counsel.

Comerica would supplement the every other month meetings with a monthly written report similar in detail and topics as the historical heirs meetings. In addition, we would continue to provide regular email updates around various matters as they arise, as we have been doing since our inception as Personal Representative.

We will plan for the first of all hands meetings for September 14th—keeping the time that was already set aside for the heirs meeting that month. I will update the invite to include the parties that are not already on it. We will plan to issue our first monthly written report in Mid-August, and we will cancel the scheduled heirs meeting call for August 17th and the Interested Parties meeting calls that are scheduled for balance of the year.

If we receive a counteroffer from the IRS in the meantime, we will schedule a meeting specific to that piece following receipt.

Please let us know if you have questions or concerns about these changes.

Thank you,

Joseph, we've grown tired of your pattern of false narratives and intentional provocation. My initial and uncontroversial email simply asked "Is there a reason I am often excluded from certain of your emails?" It is a perfectly legitimate and non-confrontational question.

Your comment that the "only activity that is unnecessarily driving up fees and costs in this matter is your insistence on contesting substantially every action taken and decision made by Comerica" is unhelpful and an inaccurate distortion. Neither SNJ, Charles nor I contested anything on this email thread. I simply requested an explanation as to why Charles and I seem to be excluded from receiving certain information, including yesterday's press release.

We are the ones disappointed and perplexed that you and Comerica are not following the Court's directives in regard to dispute resolution. The Court has indicated that the parties should consult on disputed issues and only proceed to mediation if we have conferred and are unable to reach agreement. However, you and Comerica have, on several occasions, entirely refused to confer in good faith and instead forced the issues immediately into mediation, which gives rise to increased legal fees and mediation costs as well as substantial delays in resolving issues. Andrea's email response yesterday is just the latest instance of this. This is a highly inefficient way to handle disputes, and more importantly, it is contrary to the Court's instructions that the parties are to confer and only resort to mediation when it becomes absolutely necessary.

Ultimately we should all share the same goal here, which is to move the Estate toward closure. Indeed, some of us doubt your and Comerica's desire to do so. Nonetheless, we would like to amicably resolve outstanding issues that the parties may disagree on, but it is impossible to accomplish this when you and Comerica refuse to engage directly, and insist on communicating entirely through an expensive and slow-moving mediation process. Mediation serves a purpose and may ultimately be necessary to resolve some of the remaining issues, but it should not be a first resort. Opening a direct dialogue, consistent with the Court's directives, would serve to reduce some of the frustration and hopefully ease some of the tension that has developed.

Lastly, your personal insults towards me are neither effective nor helpful, and they unnecessarily cost the Estate more money for you to place such energy and time in framing these false and unsupported narratives. We seem to do better when we communicate and speak rather than when you initiate or reply to emails. We invite that path of communication in addition to merely sending emails.

Thank you,
Londell

Londell:

I have noticed a pattern where you evidently assume that the highly experienced and professional female trust officers at Comerica are incapable of drafting simple emails. That is unfortunate.

Comerica's treatment of you, as the holder of a small portion, via assignment, of an expectancy interest in the Estate is identical to how Comerica treated Primary Wave when it was in the same position. That treatment was approved by the Court in early 2020 with respect to Primary Wave for the reason stated in Andrea's email below. Nevertheless, Comerica has stated that it is willing to discuss the issue at mediation. If you are unwilling to engage in that process, then that is up to you.

Finally, the only activity that is unnecessarily driving up fees and costs in this matter is your insistence on contesting substantially every action taken and decision made by Comerica. Your insistence on disagreeing simply for the sake of disagreeing is disappointing and inconsistent with your representation, earlier this year, that you would help alleviate conflict related to the Estate. To date, your involvement has resulted in the exact opposite.

Andrea, I presume this response was written or approved by Joseph Cassioppi (it sounds like him) so I am including him in this email.

What is the basis of your decision to differentiate on which interested parties gain more access to matters?

NorthStar Business Enterprises Mail - Re: Heads Up - Press Release- Welcome 2 America

Is it your position that heirs who sold out their interests and Primary Wave who bought their interests all deserve more communication than Charles and I who not only have signed confidentiality NDAs but also we are interested parties?

You do know such discrimination on Comerica's part invites more legal court and mediation costs for the Estate?

You do know that the Court has not authorized any such differentiation correct?

Why does Comerica continue to invite these objections and costs?

It is very time consuming and offensive.

Hi Londell,

The court has recognized that the siblings of Prince who are heirs have a heightened interest in understanding and being informed around activity, legacy and creative matters, and as such they are provided more information than would be typically provided to heirs of an Estate. Now that Primary Wave has acquired almost half of the beneficial interests in the Estate, we believe that it is appropriate that they are included in the broader line of communications as well, and we have stipulated to that with them given the magnitude of their interest. To the extent that you wish to discuss changes to info sharing with you based on your much smaller assignees interest in the Estate, we are happy to do so in our next mediated session with Justice Gilbert.
