- Complete the Interpreter Orientation Program sponsored by the State Court Administrator's Office;
- File a written Affidavit with the State Court Administrator's Office agreeing to be bound by the Code of Professional Responsibility for Interpreters in the Minnesota State Court System;
- Be at least 18 years old;
- Be of good character and fitness as evidenced by a Bureau of Criminal Apprehension (BCA) report; and
- Receive a passing score on a court interpreter certification exam developed by the National Center for State Courts that is administered or approved by the State Court Administrator's Office.

Minnesota participates in the National Center of State Courts Council of Language Access Coordinators which develops rigorous certification exams using legal and forensic terminology in English and another language. Different parts of the exam evaluate simultaneous, consecutive and sight interpretation skills. To pass the oral certification exam, interpreters must possess mastery of English and the target language at the level of a highly educated native speaker; and have a thorough understanding of legal concepts and forensic terminology in both languages. In addition, interpreters must be proficient in the specialized cognitive and motor skills required to interpret in the simultaneous, consecutive, and sight interpretation modes; and be able to convey messages accurately, completely and promptly.

Examination Description:

Candidates are required to take all three modes of interpretation for the Certification Exam.

Simultaneous interpreting skills: This part of the exam consists of listening to a CD recording in English, which represents an attorney's opening or closing statement to a judge or jury. It is recorded at a speed of about 120 words per minute and it is approximately 900 words in length. The speech continues for about 7 minutes without stopping. The examinee listens to the recording through earphones, and while listening, simultaneously interprets all statements into the target language. While being recorded, the examinee must continuously interpret aloud throughout the duration of the speech. The simultaneous part of the test takes approximately 10 minutes including instructions, preparation, and test recording.

Consecutive interpreting skills: During the consecutive part of the test, the examinee hears a CD recording of an English-speaking attorney questioning a non-English speaking witness. The examinee listens to one speaker at a time, and takes notes. After each speaker has stopped, the examinee orally interprets the question or answer into the opposite language while being recorded. The questions and answers are of various lengths ranging from one word to a maximum of 50 words. The consecutive part of the exam takes about 20 minutes.

Sight interpretation skills: For the sight interpretation part of the test, the examinee is asked to read a document written in English, and then interpret it orally into the target language; and to read a document written in the non-English language, and then interpret it aloud in English. Each document is about 225 words in length, and the examinee is allowed 6 minutes per document to review the content and accomplish the sight interpretation while being recorded.
