IMPORTANT NOTICES

THE COURT EXPECTS EVERY PERSON WHO APPEARS IN COURT WITHOUT A LAWYER TO KNOW AND FOLLOW THE LAW. IF YOU ACT AS YOUR OWN LAWYER, YOU MUST DO WHAT A LAWYER WOULD DO.

- COURT PERSONNEL AND THE COUNTY ATTORNEY'S OFFICE CANNOT HELP YOU FILL OUT THE FORM(S) IN THIS PACKET.
- YOU SHOULD SEE A LAWYER IF YOU DON'T KNOW HOW TO ANSWER THE QUESTIONS ON THESE FORMS OR IF YOU THINK THE OTHER PARTY WILL HIRE A LAWYER.
- AS YOU FILL OUT THE FORM(S) IN THIS PACKET YOU MUST FOLLOW THE INSTRUCTIONS.
- TYPE YOUR ANSWERS OR PRINT NEATLY USING DARK INK.

The other party has filed Contempt of Court papers with the Court alleging that you have failed to obey the Court's order and further alleging that you are in Contempt of Court.

You have the right to be represented by an attorney if you are being accused of Contempt of Court. You may have an attorney appointed by the court to represent you at no cost to you if you are financially eligible. To find out if you qualify for a court-appointed attorney, ask the Court Administrator for an application for a court-appointed attorney.

What "Contempt of Court" Means

Only a judicial officer can determine whether someone is in "Contempt of Court." "Contempt of Court" is a decision by a judicial officer that someone who has been ordered to do something knew about the Order, and has knowingly and without good reason disobeyed the Order. Because a judicial officer can order the contemnor (the person who disobeyed) to be put in jail until he or she obeys the Order, extra safeguards are built into the procedures to ensure that the person who might be put in jail is treated fairly.

Two-Part Hearing Process Required

The court cannot put you in jail simply because the other party says that you disobeyed a court order. In most cases, there will be several hearings.

I. FIRST-STAGE HEARING

At the first hearing the court will decide if:

1. You knew the contents of the prior Order;
2. You disobeyed the prior Order, but had a good reason for disobeying it; OR
3. You disobeyed the prior Order and did not have a good reason for disobeying.

If the court decides that you obeyed the Order or that you disobeyed the order but had a good reason for disobeying it, then the motion for contempt will be denied. Even if a request for contempt of court is denied, the court may still grant other relief that is appropriate to the case, such as requiring the person to pay money, cooperate in visitation, follow future court orders, etc.

If the court decides that you disobeyed the prior Order and did not have a good reason for disobeying it, and if the court also decides that putting you in jail will make you obey the Order, the court must tell you that incarceration is a possibility, advise you to obtain an attorney, and explain that if you cannot afford an attorney, one will be appointed.

If you tell the judicial officer that you want to speak with an attorney, a second hearing will be scheduled. If you waive your right to an attorney, the court may conduct the hearing at that time. The court may not punish you and put you in jail for not following the Order because that would be a criminal matter. The court may only put you in jail if the court believes that you have the ability to do what is ordered and that you have willfully refused to do it, and that putting you in jail will cause you to obey the prior Order.

If the court finds that you knew the contents of the prior Order, willfully failed to follow it, and that jail or the threat of jail may reasonably cause compliance with the court Order, the court may immediately sentence you to jail, or may “stay” (not immediately enforce) the jail sentence to give you time to “purge” (correct) the prior behavior by doing what the prior court Order required. The court may also require you to do other things, such as pay money, cooperate in visitation, follow future court Orders, etc.

II. REVOCATION HEARING

If the court sentences you to jail, but gives you a chance to purge (cure) the contempt, and you do not do what you were supposed to do cure the problem, the other party may wish to have you jailed. In order to do that, certain forms asking for a hearing for revocation of the stay must be served upon (given to you) and filed with the court.

At the revocation hearing, the court will decide one of the following:

1. You have purged (cured) the contempt; OR
2. You have not purged (cured) the contempt, but jailing you is not necessary to cause obedience and, therefore, you will not be jailed; OR

3. You have not purged (cured) the contempt, and jailing you is likely to make you obey the Order and, therefore, you should be immediately jailed.

If the court decides to order you to jail, you must stay in jail until you purge the contempt by obeying the court Order (for example, by paying overdue support, or allowing visitation, or agreeing to follow all future court orders). It is often said that the person in jail "holds the keys to the jail" because that person controls when he or she is released.

INSTRUCTIONS

Step 1

Fill Out the Notice of Motion and Responsive Motion Form (DIV1502)

Fill out the Notice of Motion and Responsive Motion form included in this packet. This form tells the court and the other party that you do not believe you are in contempt of court.

FILL IN THE TOP PART OF THE FORM (this is known as "the caption"):

NOTE: The information to fill in the top part of the form can be found at the top of your Divorce or Paternity Decree or other existing Order. Be sure to copy the information EXACTLY as it is on your current Order.

- Write the name of the county where your case is located, the number of the judicial district for that county, and the case number that is also called the "court file number." This information is found on your existing Order.
- On the line marked "Name of Petitioner," write the name of the Petitioner as listed on your current Order or Divorce or Paternity Decree.
- On the line marked "Name of Respondent," write the name of the Respondent as listed on the current Order or Divorce or Paternity Decree.
- On the "TO" line, write the full name and street address of the other party.
- Fill in the date, time, and location of the hearing (this should be copied from the other party's papers).

FILL OUT THE REST OF THE FORM:

NOTE: The following instructions are numbered the same as the questions on the Notice of Motion and Responsive Motion form.

1. On the first line of paragraph/question 1, write the name of the other party. On the second line, write the date of the Order that the other party claims you have disobeyed.
2. You do not need to answer this question.
3. Read the Verification and Acknowledgement carefully.

By signing your name you are telling the court that you are telling the truth and that you have a good faith reason for your requests. If you are not telling the truth or if you are misleading the court or if you are serving or filing this document for an improper purpose, the court can order you to pay money to the other party or impose other sanctions.

DATE AND SIGN THE NOTICE OF MOTION AND RESPONSIVE MOTION FORM.

Step 2

Fill Out the Affidavit in Support of Responsive Motion Form (DIV1503)

Fill out the Affidavit in Support of Responsive Motion form that tells the court and the other party what you are asking for from the court and WHY you are asking for it.

Fill in the top part of the form (caption) the same way you did on the Notice of Motion and Responsive Motion form.

NOTE: The following instructions are numbered the same as the questions on the Affidavit in Support of Responsive Motion form.

1. Write in your name on the blank line above paragraph/question 1.
2. Check off whether you are the Petitioner or Respondent in this case as listed on your Divorce Decree or other existing Order.
3. The other party is telling the court that you have violated a court Order. Check off whether you did or did not receive a copy of that court Order prior to receiving the other person's court papers to find you in contempt. Write in the date of the specific court Order. This is in paragraph/question 1 of the other party's Motion. If the other party is claiming you violated more than one order, add additional lines to answer question 3 regarding each separate Order or Decree.
4. Check either (a) or (b):
 - a. Check (a) if you believe you obeyed the Order and then on lines tell the court exactly what you did to obey the order (include dates, check numbers, or other information that may prove to the court that you obeyed the Order). If the other party is claiming you disobeyed more than one Order, add additional lines or pages to answer 4(a) and 4(b) with regard to each Order or Decree.
 - b. Check (b) if you did not obey the Order but had a good reason for not obeying the Order and then on lines tell the Court your reason for not obeying the Order.

If the other party is claiming you have violated a court Order that involves your ability to pay an obligation, such as child support or spousal maintenance, you may wish to consider using the Parenting / Financial Disclosure Statement form (form number FAM108). If you do use the Parenting / Financial Disclosure Statement form, you should serve and file the form with the court at or before the contempt hearing. The form can be found at the Court Administrator's Office or at www.mncourts.gov/forms.

Sign the Affidavit in Support of Responsive Motion under penalty of perjury. By signing your name under penalty of perjury, you are telling the court that you are telling the truth and that you have a good faith reason for your requests. If you are filing these documents just to harass the other party or without good legal reason, or if you mislead the court, the court can make you pay money to the other party. Perjury is the crime of intentionally lying or misrepresenting the truth, punishable by jail or other sanctions.

Step 3 Make Copies of Forms

- Make two copies of the Notice of Motion and Responsive Motion form and all attachments, and two copies of your Affidavit in Support of Responsive Motion form and all attachments.
- Keep one copy of each form for yourself (make sure to bring your copies with you to Court on the day of your hearing).
- Step 4 tells you how to give the second copy of each form to the other party. Step 6 tells you how to file the forms with the court.

Step 4 Serve Notice on the Other Party

Overview

The other party must receive complete copies of all documents you have prepared for the hearing. This is called "service of process." The papers can be served personally (handed to the other party), or by mail. If papers are served by mail, Court Rules require adding three days. Papers cannot be served on a legal holiday as defined in Minn. Stat. § 645.44, subd. 5 (<https://www.revisor.mn.gov/statutes/cite/645.44#stat.645.44.5>).

If the other party is represented by an attorney, serve the other party's attorney, instead of the party directly.

Who Can Serve

The forms you have prepared can be served by any of the following:

- The sheriff;
- Another adult; or
- You.

Personal Service

The server hands to the other party one copy of the completed Responsive Notice of Motion and Motion, Affidavit in Response to Motion, Parenting/Financial Disclosure Statement (if applicable), and one copy of any and all attachments.

- The server must give the papers to the other party (or their attorney, if they have one) at least 7 days before the hearing date. For example, if the hearing date is January 30, the server must give the papers to the other party on or before January 23. If January 23 is a legal holiday, the papers must be served on the next day that is not a legal holiday.

- Note: If your responsive Motion raises new issues not addressed by the other party's Notice of Motion and Motion, your responsive papers must be served at least 14 days before the hearing.

Service by Mail

The server places one copy of your Responsive Notice of Motion and Motion, Affidavit in Response to Motion, Parenting/Financial Disclosure Statement (if applicable), and one copy of any and all attachments in an envelope.

- The server must mail the envelope containing the forms to the other party (or their attorney, if they have one) by first class U.S. mail at least 10 days before the hearing date. For example, if the hearing date is January 30, the envelope must be postmarked on or before January 20.
- Note: If your Responsive Motion raises new issues not addressed in the other party's Notice of Motion and Motion, the Responsive papers must be mailed at least 17 days before the hearing.

WARNING: IF YOUR FORMS ARE NOT HAND-DELIVERED OR MAILED TO THE OTHER PARTY (OR HIS/HER ATTORNEY) ON TIME, THE COURT MAY DISREGARD YOUR RESPONSE.

Step 5

Fill Out the Affidavit of Service Form

After a copy of your forms and attachments is hand-delivered or mailed, the person who did the service must fill out an Affidavit of Service form and sign it under penalty of perjury. Perjury is the crime of intentionally lying or misrepresenting the truth.

After it has been signed, make one copy of the Affidavit of Service for your records.

Step 6

File the Forms with the Court

At least 7 days before the hearing date, file the following documents with the Court Administrator. If your papers raise new issues not included in the other party's Notice of Motion and Motion, you must file the papers with the court at least 14 days before the hearing date. You can mail them to the court, but you must allow 3 extra days for mailing. Put them in the mail at least 10 days before the hearing (or 17 days before the hearing if the papers raise new issues).

File:

- The Notice of Motion and Responsive Motion and all attachments;
- The Affidavit in Support of Responsive Motion and all attachments;
- The Parenting/Financial Disclosure Statement and all attachments (if applicable); and
- The Affidavit of Service.

There may be a filing fee due when you file your paperwork. Contact court administration to find out the amount of the filing fee. You can make checks payable to “District Court.”

If you cannot afford to pay the filing fee, you can ask for a fee waiver by completing the forms in the Request for Fee Waiver packet of forms (found online at <http://www.mncourts.gov/GetForms.aspx?c=19&p=69>). If a judicial officer does not sign the fee waiver order, then you must pay the motion fee before Court Administration can process your forms.

Step 7

Appear in Court

You must go to court on the date set for the hearing. Be sure to be on time. Bring with you to the hearing your copies of the papers and any witnesses you want to talk to the judicial officer. The hearing is very formal. You should be polite to everyone in the courtroom, and address the judicial officer “your honor”. Remember to talk to the judicial officer, not the other party. Do not argue with the other party or be unnecessarily critical of the other party. After the hearing, the judicial officer will issue an order. The judicial officer may issue the order at the end of the hearing or may send a copy of the order to you in the mail.
